CHRIS RUSSELL

Chris Russell has been working in the education field since the Spring of 2023, where he has developed his creative and critical teaching skills and techniques.

He graduated from Taconic Hills High School in Craryville, NY in 2021. Following graduation he attended the State University of New York at Plattsburgh for 5 years, and achieved a Master's Degree in Adolescent Education and a Bachelor's Degree in History. As a part of the academic program, Chris Russell also attained his certification to teach Middle School and High School Social Studies for New York State.

Since 2023, Chris Russell has worked for several different YMCAs across New York State, providing care to students after school and over the summers. He believes in meeting every student and learner at their current skill level, and building them up to a point that they never envisioned on their horizon.

In his fifth year of college, he taught 8th grade and 11th grade social studies for public schools in Plattsburgh, NY, and Peru, NY

In his free time, he plays pickleball, disc golf, basketball, and likes to get outside as much as possible.
