

IOULIA KONSTANTINIDOU

Mrs. Konstantinidou is a school teacher with over 30 years of classroom experience. She earned a Bachelor's degree in English and American Literature and Linguistics from Aristotle University of Thessaloniki, Greece, and a Master's in English Language Teaching at Lancaster University, United Kingdom. Throughout her career, Ioulia has committed to making second language learning an enjoyable and creative experience for students.

In the classroom, she is consistent about standards and confident in responding appropriately to challenges. She believes in and fosters team spirit and collaboration, promoting honest communication, valuing diverse perspectives, and celebrating collective achievements.

Outside of teaching, she is an origami paper-folding fan, and she loves dancing and playing volleyball.
